Portuguese symbols and souvenirs

It is no exaggeration to say that the swallow is one of the most famous Portuguese symbols. A symbol of love and loyalty, but also of home and family, this bird represents feelings that are deeply rooted in Portuguese culture. It all started in 1891 when Rafael Bordallo Pinheiro designed the first ceramic swallow at his famous ceramic factory. It quickly became a bestseller and a symbol of Portuguese life. Nowadays, you'll find these 'andorinhas' everywhere. As an icon of Portugal, these delicate items are one of the best souvenirs that can be offered.

Taste surprising Portuguese flavours with these original jams in tubes! Made in an artisanal way, they are among the best handmade and gourmet jams in the world, with several international awards for flavour.

- N°1 - 'Rocha' Pear (PDO) is an exclusively Portuguese variety produced, for the most part, on the Central West Coast of Portugal. It is a fruit with an appetizing color, texture and flavor. 'Douro' Muscatel, a liqueur wine, makes an extremely delicate and light connection with Rocha pear, making it a sweet with a unique flavor.
- N°2 - This pumpkin jam is the most traditional Portuguese jam and one of the most used by the Portuguese. A delicate mixture of pumpkin and orange, rosemary honey and eucalyptus honey, cinnamon and almond, make this jam unique.
- N°3 - This sweet jam, with cherry from Fundão PGI (Protected Geographical Indication), a cherry variety traditionally grown in the heart of Cova da Beira, of firm and fleshy consistency, is flavored with the brandy of unique aroma and flavor.
- N°4 - Blueberry Jam of the Duke variety, a berry with a resistant texture and an attractive blue-purple color, of high quality, with a semi-sweet and mild flavor, a wild fruit, with flavors ranging from the slightly sweet, sour and bitter, flavored with Port wine, from the Douro Valley region.
- N°5 - Bravo de Esmolfe apple, is an apple with Protected Designation of Origin (PDO), from Beira Alta, juicy, sweet and at the same time acidic, which combined with cinnamon, creates a delicate jam with a unique flavor, very appreciated for spreading bread, croissants, toasts and accompanying with a tea.
- N°6 - This fig jam, variety honey drop, produced in the region of Trás-os-Montes, is a sweet, tasty fruit with a consistent pulp, mixed with orange from the Algarve region, a sweet and sour fruit, and flavored with Port wine, one of the most appreciated liqueur wines in the world produced in the Douro Valley.

Elegant metal box with a selection of two illustrious Port wines from the Douro Valley:

> 1 Graham's Late Bottled Vintage.

> 1 Graham's 10 year Old Tawny.

Graham's was founded in 1820 and belongs to the Symington family.

In the South of Portugal, there is a wild, exuberant and strong spirit called "Aguardente de Medronho". "Aguardente" means fire water and "Medronho" is the fruit of the "Medronheiro", also called strawberry tree. This spirit is one of the most popular Portuguese drinks: The 'Pura' one is still distilled by traditional method.

The 'Vila das Rainhas' cherry liqueur from Obidos, of exceptional quality, made in respect of traditions, and from the best fruits. Intense in aroma and flavour of morello cherry, ruby color, round and velvety in the mouth, this liqueur is produced according to a monastic recipe, in a artisanal way, without artificial colors or aromas. Affectionately called 'Ginjinha', this traditional liqueur can be served as an aperitif, or as a digestive.

 Portuguese fragrances

Offer a little piece of Portugal with these aromatic soaps, made with a 100% vegetable base and the best ingredients, hand wrapped in paper adorned with illustrations of the beautiful cities of Lisbon and Porto. Perfect to give away as a fragrant souvenir! All these soaps are creations of the famous 'Castelbel' brand, renowned for its high quality and refined soaps, made in the Porto region.

1 - Lisbon

It smells good, it smells like Lisbon! What better fragrance to represent the Portuguese capital, a city famous for its popular festivals, than 'Manjerico'?

2 - Porto

A scent with a Northern Portuguese accent! A soap dedicated to the City of Camellias is scented, naturally, with the fresh and intense floral fragrance of the Camellia.

Kitchen soap in the shape of a sardine, with the scent of lemon & sea salt. Original and practical, it will find its place in any kitchen.

These soaps are a fragrant tribute to the centuries-old art of Portuguese tile-making. Made with high quality ingredients, a 100% vegetable base, each soap is hand-wrapped in paper with tile motifs, tied with a ribbon and finished with a small, authentic tile. These soaps are creations of the prestigious 'Castelbel' brand.

1 - Lavender Chamomile is close, calming, essential for the mind and spirit. A fusion of two natural scents known for their tranquillity: Lavender & Chamomile.
 2 - Santal Tonka is complex, warm, with notes of wood. An exotic combination of Sandalwood and Tonka Bean that entrances the senses and warms the heart.
 3 - Green Sencha is revitalizing, green, fresh. Inspired by oriental Sencha tea, it reinvigorates and infuses us with energy and good vibes, combining notes of green tea with juicy citrus fruits.

Renowned for their artisanal manufacture, the 'Saudade' soaps are produced from ingredients of vegetable origin and enriched with organic olive oil. These luxury soaps are carefully wrapped by hand in a delicate sheet of vegetal paper, and then placed inside of a premium box with 'Saudade' gold stamped.

- 1 - The 'Verbena soap' has a milder fragrance, but no less notorious. Its scent is delicate and pleasant.
- 2 - The 'Perfect Love' soap, known as Violet, conveys a sense of serenity and tranquility, due to its soothing and anti-inflammatory properties.
- 3 - With white jasmine notes and marked by an intense heat that mixes amber, musk and a subtle touch of vanilla, the 'Vanilla Ambar' soap leaves a trail of enigmatic and captivating aromas.
- 4 - With a more woody fragrance, developed through sublime touches of pine, cedar and patchouli, the 'Pine Cedar' soap combines with a fresh aroma of pine branches chosen with dedication.
- 5 - With a timeless and aphrodisiac combination, the 'Orange and Cinnamon' soap transmits a powerful fragrance of well-being, providing a feeling of calm and comfort.
